

The locations of transformers, pedestals, switchpads, vaults, conduit routes, etc will be determined during the process WMLP will undergo with the developer. This has not happened yet and so all of that is yet to be determined. WMLP does not implicitly or otherwise agree that any of the electric facility locations proposed here will be approved in the final design.

Costs of rearrangements of existing services, including infrastructure, cable, etc will be borne by developer. Developer must contact and negotiate directly with Comcast, Verizon and other attaches on the existing poles. WMLP will not remove our overhead attachments, and relocated services to underground, until the other attaches
